Introduction

What is PEAF

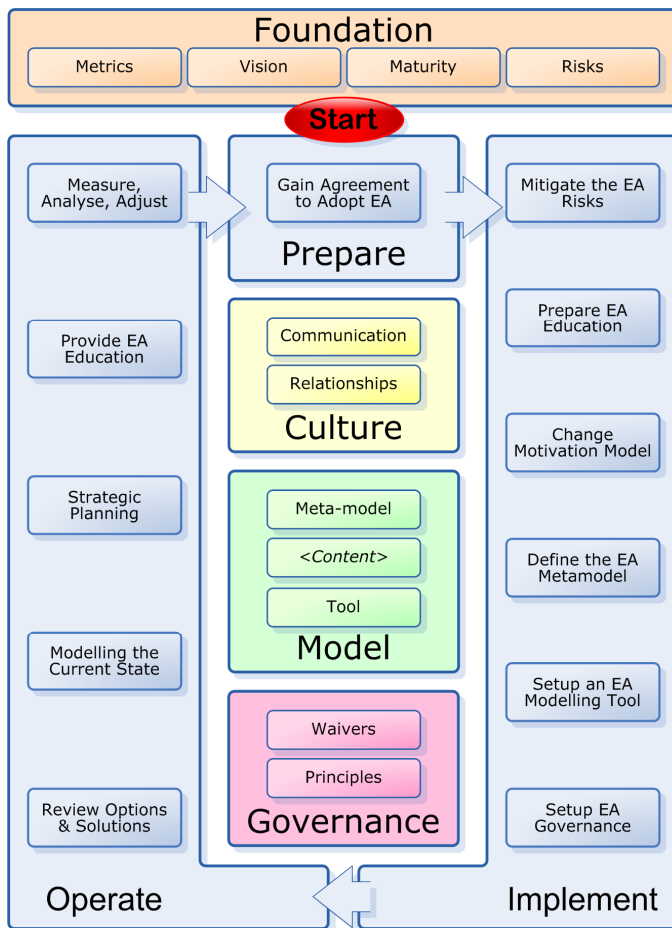

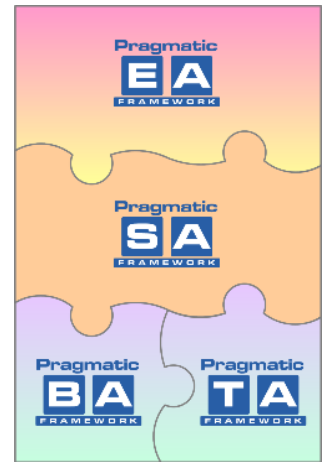

This document forms part of the Pragmatic Enterprise Architecture Framework. PEAF is part of the Pragmatic family of Architecture Frameworks.

PEAF is a vendor and consultancy independent, technology neutral, Enterprise Architecture Framework which allows organisations to kick start or re-start an EA initiative and provides a comprehensive set of Products and Processes of everything required to hit the ground running.

PEAF bridges the gap between minimal "EA Frameworks" which do not provide a complete set of what is required or huge monolithic "EA Frameworks" that are too difficult to understand and difficult to use.

PEAF achieves this by "Cutting EA to the Bone", and providing everything you need, and nothing you don't. For more information, visit www.PragmaticEA.com.

PEAF is composed of two fundamental parts; Products and Processes.

Products

This part contains all the products required for an EA initiative: -

- Foundation - Provides the products required for starting and/or progressing an existing EA initiative.
- Culture - Communication and relationships are the key to EA. Without them and their understanding, everything else is superfluous.
- Model - The main artefact of EA are the models which allow information to be gathered, viewed and analysed.
- Governance - Providing an environment to guide change as it happens throughout the organisation.

Processes

This part contains all the processes required for an EA initiative divided into 3 distinct phases: -

- Prepare - Scoping and gaining approval for an EA initiative.
- Implement - Making the changes to prepare the organisation to operate EA.
- Operate - "Doing" EA.

Aim of this document

For those people who are already aware of PEAFv1.1, this document presents the differences between PEAFv1.1 and PEAFv2.0 as an aid to understanding the new v2.0 framework.

Overview

The main changes to PEA from v1.1 to v2.0 are as follows: -

Content

- The management section has been removed and subsumed other parts
- All of the processes and plans have been moved to a new process section which has been greatly expanded.
- The Comms section used to be blue, now it is yellow.

Certification

- The Expert and Master Certifications have been removed and replaced by a new Consultant Certification.
- The Practitioner Certification has been split into Practitioner and Professional.
- A new organisational Certification has been introduced "Certified Enterprise"

Training

- New Training courses aligned to the new certification roadmaps.
